

NOTICIAS

Source: Diario del Puerto

Date: 28th January of 2011

Lógica encourages the operators to automate their warehouses to be more competitive.

Lógica, the management of logistics operators, yesterday urged the industry to automate their warehouses to be more efficient and competitive. In a global market, the differentiation is a key element and in this sense, automation well applied and well understood is a strategic weapon. This was reflected yesterday in the conference on warehouse automation organized in Madrid by Lógica and Logistics Institute Tajamar.