The Public Works and Development Ministry works in a plan to promote the use of new technologies in the transportation sector.

The General Direction of Road Transportation at the Public Works and Development Ministry works in the development of a diagnostic study about the level of demand and the implementation of new technologies in transportation by road and rail. A study for which they are surveying companies in the sector and from which will establish a plan to promote new technologies and a brochure detailing which are the new existing technologies for the sector.
