The Spanish ports move 99,108,473 tons of general cargo between January and June.

During the first six months of this year, the Spanish ports moved 99,108,473 tons of general cargo, which represents an increase of 5.88% over the same period last year and the third best register in history port. These figures only exceeded during the biennium 2007-2008, which last year reached 102 million tons.
